Foreword

We, the Senior Class of 1959, have included within the covers of this yearbook some of our dearest friends, favorite places, and cherished memories which can never be forgotten.

The stars sparkling in our eyes at the time of our graduation represent a mixture of emotions—both of joy and of sorrow. Joy is felt because of friendships established, ambitions accomplished, and knowledge gained; sorrow, because an era of our life has ended.

We sincerely hope that in years to come, our yearbook will bring to others who read it as much pleasure as we have had in its publication. We now submit to you, THE 1959 CHIEF.

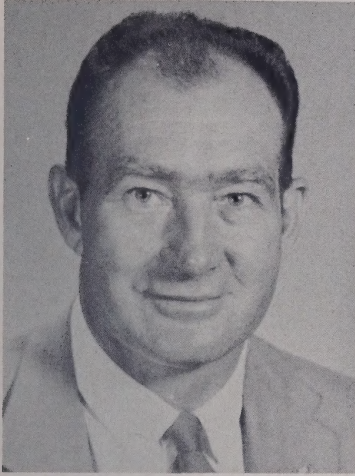

DEDICATION

In appreciation for your sincere guidance during our school years, we, the Senior Class of 1959, would like to dedicate this yearbook to you, MR. SITTON, our principal and friend.

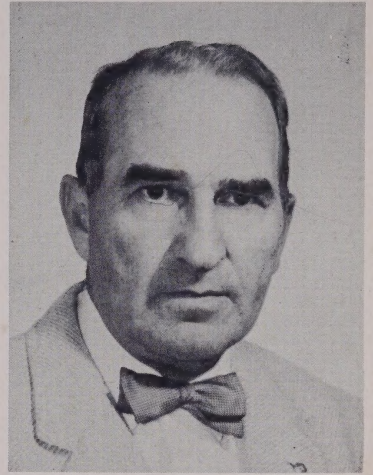

Because of your unfailing interest, your encouragement, and your devotion to us and to our school, we have successfully reached this point in our life for which we have been striving.

To you, Mr. Sitton, whom we shall never forget and to whom we are all grateful, we dedicate this yearbook.

OUR NEW CAFETERIA

For several years we have needed a new cafeteria at Etowah. Finally, funds were made available for the building and construction was started in the spring of 1958.

After watching and waiting, somewhat impatiently, we were served our first hot lunch on November 4, 1958. Everyone was very much pleased with the new cafeteria.

We would like to thank our county superintendent, Mr. J. M. Foster, and the Henderson County Commissioners for the part they had in making this available for us. We want to express our sincere gratitude to all the parents, teachers, and students who worked diligently during the past year on various money-making projects to help furnish the necessary new kitchen equipment and the attractive dining room furniture.

THE ANNUAL

With the challenge to publish a yearbook worthy of our Alma Mater, the Staff of THE 1959 CHIEF began gathering materials for our annual. Many hours were spent in planning, drawing layouts, making photographs, writing copy, identifying pictures, typing, soliciting ads, selling subscriptions.

The deadline created the greatest pressure as the time of publication grew near. However, we believe the joy received because of a task well done overshadowed the hours spent in tedious work.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

OUR CREED

I believe in the future of farming, with a faith born not of words but of deeds...I believe that to live and work on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging...I believe in leadership from ourselves and respect from others. I believe in my own ability to work efficiently and think clearly...I believe that rural America can and will hold true to the best traditions in our national life and that I can exert an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

OUR CREED

We are the Future Homemakers of America
We face the future with warm courage, and high hope,
For we have the clear consciousness of seeking
Old and precious values,
For we are the builder of homes,
Homes for America's future.
Homes where truth and love and security and faith
Will be realities, not dreams,
Homes where living will be the expression of everything.
We are the Future Homemakers of America,
We face the future with warm courage,
And high hope.

CLASS HISTORY

In 1947 our bright constellation began to form. Dorothy Dalton, Shirley Fowler, Tommy Simpson, Leroy Ritter, Pete Cornh, Kenneth McCarson, Ethelyne Wilkie, Jean Wells, Jimmy Snyder, Frances Young, and Mary Murphy made up this ensemble as it began to travel upward. As the galaxy aged, it had hardships; but through these hardships its light became more radiant.

During the next eight years, the nebulae grew larger with the addition of Joni Fletcher, Joan Hendricks, Brenda McLean, Ardith Fulle, Douglas Owens, Bobby Ray Owens, Ewart Smith, Carolyn Brown, Jewell Murphy, Sandra Hutchinson, Betty Jean Griffin, Eula Mae Suttles, Helen Morgan, and Dickie Connor.

At times the way seemed dark; but with the help of our guiding stars, Mr. Sitton and his faculty, we continued on our fixed path until we reached a higher level, high school. About this time our celestial body was completed with the addition of Wanda Kay Strickland, who came to us from another planet, Brevard High School.

An ambition that most of us had when we were freshmen was to participate on one of our champion basketball teams. Though all could not take part as players, there was a place for everyone either as a cheerleader or a fan on the sidelines; and we cheered our classmates on to many victories. We will never forget the night the boys rolled over the Flat Rock Blue Devils and the night the girls were victorious over the Fletcher girls.

During the sophomore year we began a series of picnics at Woodlake Farms which will always stand out as our favorite recreation spot.

The Junior Play, "Which Shall He Marry?" required many hours of memorizing, but was also full of fun and laughter. Another highlight of the junior year was our Junior-Senior Banquet with its theme of "Candyland." The Country Club will always have a special place in our memories for it was the sight of this merry and sprightly event.

During the senior year, we will never forget the day our class rings arrived. They will forever hold their sparkle and lustrous appearance, even through years of wear. The painstaking work on the annual was worth while when the first copy was received and proudly displayed.

The Junior-Senior Banquet, one of the highlights of the spring, was most enjoyable. The top dramatic event of '59 was the senior play, "Grandma's Best Years."

Throughout its orbit, this group of stars has reached the peak of its brilliance and will become static in a stately manner as far as its days in high school are concerned, on May 22, 1959, we will be leaving in body but not in spirit. Always the senior class of '59 will remember Etowah High School as a place for friendship, knowledge, play; and our teachers as the ones who started us on our road to a life of success and happiness.
